Pope Francis on Calumny

In a past address, Pope Francis spoke very strongly about the sin of calumny. Calumny is giving statements contrary to the truth which harms the reputation of others and gives occasion for false judgments concerning them. In other words, it is when we spread false or exaggerated stories about a person that harms their good name and reputation in the eyes of others. Drawing from the First Reading account of Stephen, the first martyr, being dragged before the Sanhedrin, Pope Francis strongly condemned the sin of calumny. The Holy Father noted that Stephen was accused of "false witness," and that his enemies chose "the path of calumny." Pope Francis described calumny as worse than sin and a direct expression of Satan.

Pope Francis stated, "We are all sinners; all of us. We all commit sins. But calumny is something else. It is of course a sin, too, but it is something more. Calumny aims to destroy the work of God, and calumny comes from a very evil thing: it is born of hatred. And hate is the work of Satan. Calumny destroys the work of God in people, in their souls. Calumny uses lies to get ahead. And let us be in no doubt, eh? Where there is calumny, there is Satan himself."

The Holy Father then noted the contrast of Stephen's behavior, who did not return falsehood with falsehood. "He does not want to go that way to save himself. He looks to the Lord and obeys the law, being in the peace and truth of Christ."

Very profound stuff. We should all examine our hearts to see if we are prone to calumny and ask the Lord to help us to drive Satan out our hearts and enable us to, even when we passionately disagree with someone, not to harm their good name or reputation. In fact, calumny is so grave that the Catechism speaks of our moral requirement in justice to make up for the damage that we cause to someone's reputation, "Every offense committed against justice and truth entails the duty of reparation, even if its author has been forgiven. When it is impossible publicly to make reparation for a wrong, it must be made secretly. If someone who has suffered harm cannot be directly compensated, he must be given moral satisfaction in the name of charity. This duty of reparation also concerns offenses against another's reputation. This reparation, moral and sometimes material, must be evaluated in terms of the extent of the damage inflicted. It obliges in conscience." (2487)

As much as we rightly decry the horrendous violence in the world today, let us not forget the great violence and damage done to others with our words and remember that every time we do, we have given into Satan and allowed him into our hearts. Repentance, reparation, penance, and prayer is the way to drive Satan out of our hearts and bring the peace and goodness of Christ back in.

God Bless you,
Father Joseph Byerley

STEWARDSHIP LIFE

“Jesus himself stood among them and said to them, ‘Peace be with you.’ But they were startled and frightened...”

- - Luke 24:36-37

Throughout the day we have many opportunities to “see the face of Jesus” in others and to “be the face of Jesus” to others. Do we take that opportunity to provide “peace” to those we encounter or are we afraid of what others will think of us and do nothing? Pray for the strength and courage to live a “God-centered” life of Stewardship and not a “self-centered” life.
