Dobbs v. Jackson Women's Health Organization (Part 3)

This is the third and final part of statements and responses regarding the Dobbs v. Jackson Women's Health Organization abortion case and how it may affect Roe vs. Wade.

"If you really cared about women and reducing abortion, you would offer free contraception."

- While some argue that contraception is the key to reducing the abortion rate, real-world evidence does not back that up. Instead, research shows that even when women were provided with free "emergency contraception" ahead of time, the pregnancy and abortion rate remained statistically equivalent with those who were not provided with it. In fact, the availability of contraception and abortion can increase the rate of unintended pregnancies (as well as sexually transmitted infections) as studies show that people engage in more frequent and riskier behavior if they believe their risk has been lowered.

"Massive numbers of women will face unexpected, traumatic pregnancies because of this."

- It is possible that less "access" to abortion will ultimately mean fewer women facing unexpected or challenging pregnancies. Since abortion became legal in most states, we have seen an increase in unexpected and challenging pregnancies, not a decrease.
- The overwhelming majority of abortions (86% according to the CDC) take place in the context of non-marital relationships, where women lack the social and financial support of marriage. It has been found that widespread availability of contraception and abortion has helped make non-marital sex more of a cultural norm that in turn leads to more non-marital pregnancies that many women feel unprepared to handle alone.
- Justice O'Connor in Planned Parenthood v. Casey wrote that by and large, people have come to understand abortion as the backup for failed contraception," and "Greater Access to Contraceptives Does Not Reduce Abortions." If the "abortion backup" becomes less widely available, we could see an important cultural shift that leads both men and women to treat sex with greater respect, and have sex with people only when they are ready for children and open to starting a family. If this happens, the non-marital pregnancy rate could begin to decline.

"Who will help the women who can't get abortions?"

- The Church will never cease to do what it has always done- to pray, work, and serve until the day when every human life is protected in law, and welcomed in love. Until that day comes, and ever after, we will continue to care for women and children in need, so that every mother has the support to joyfully choose life.
- Through the expansive social ministries of the Church, we do a lot to help mothers in need, but there are tremendous opportunities on the local and parish level to reach out to women who are pregnant and to provide them with the support to choose life. That is why the Church has started "Walking with Moms in Need," a parish-based ministry where parishes "walk in the shoes" of pregnant and parenting women, so that they have the emotional and material support they need, so that no one gets left behind.
- Pro-life Americans of all faiths have stepped forward to found thousands of pregnancy care centers, and could be counted on to provide even more help as needed. Pro-life activists have been helping these women over the last nearly half-century.

Please continue to pray and work to protect the dignity and value of human life, especially the most innocent. One doesn't have to look too far in our society to see how the erosion of the value of human life can have dire and traumatic consequences.

God bless you,
Father Joseph Byerley

MONTHLY BOOK STUDY: JULIAN OF NORWICH B. 1343

Julian is a fourteenth century mystic known for her positive theology written in her work: The Revelation of Divine Love. Many might be familiar with the writings of St. Faustina and her Chaplet of Divine Mercy, made popular by Pope St. John Paul II. Julian's work predates St. Faustina by 600 years.

Julian wrote in her Sixth Showing (or mystical vision):

God's love for us is so great that it surpasses the understanding of any living being. Not a creature in all of creation can know how completely and how sweetly and with what infinite tenderness he loves us. Only with his grace and his assistance can we persevere in spiritual contemplation and maintain the awe and wonder that arise in our hearts in response to the soaring, transcendent, immeasurable love that the almighty God, in his goodness, has for us.

Join me in reading the writings of Juliana over the next few months. We will meet the 4th Thursday of the month to discuss the assigned readings from her work. Her writings may give rise to questions, faith sharing and deeper insight into God's love for us and the beauty of our Christian life.

We will have our first meeting on Thursday, June 30 at 7PM in the Parish Center classroom. We meet once a month.

If there are a reasonable number of people who might prefer a morning time, arrangements can be made for that.

Price of the book will be $15.

PLEASE CALL ME BY JUNE 18 TO REGISTER.

PRAYER FOR PERSECUTED CHRISTIANS

O God of all the nations,
the One God who is and was and always will be,
thy providence you willed that your Church
be united to the suffering of your Son.

Look with mercy on your servants
who are persecuted for their faith in you.

Grant them perseverance and courage to be worthy imitators of Christ.

Bring your wisdom upon leaders of nations to work for peace among all peoples.

May your Spirit open conversion
for those who contradict your will,
that we may live in harmony.

Give us the grace to be united in truth
and freedom,

and to always seek your will in our lives.

Through Christ our Lord. Amen.

Our Lady Help of Persecuted Christians, pray for us.

LECTIO DIVINA

— PRAYING THE SCRIPTURES —

The Lectio Scripture Group that began during Lent will continue to meet monthly to pray with the Scriptures.

Anyone interested in joining are most welcome. The group will meet on the Fourth Monday of each month, at 10AM in the basement of St. Patrick Church, through December..

Remember, Lectio is a spiritual practice of reading a Scripture and slowly extracting from it meaning for my life. Guido II (1114-1193), a Carthusian Monk, wrote of this practice and saw Lectio as a "four step ladder" that takes one to God. He directs us to read a text progressively, four times: First reading: read the text. Second reading: meditate on the text, Third reading: pray on the text, Fourth reading: contemplate the text. It is a practice of taking the text ever deeper into our daily lives. Come and learn. Come join us. Next gathering is June 27th. Questions? Please call Jerry Washko at 856-845-6944.
